WILSON HAS POPULAR PLURALITY OF 403,000 INDICATED

Receives More Than Two Million More Votes Than Any Democratic Candidate Ever Received Before

NEITHER PARTY WILL HAVE MORE THAN A PLURALITY OF ONE IN THE LOWER HOUSE OF CONGRESS

One Lone District in New Mexico Probably Will Determine Which Party It Will Be

DEMOCRATS ARE HOPEFUL

Official Count in New Jersey May Disclose That Representative Scully Has Won

HE HAS LEAD OF 14 VOTES

Wilson Apparently Has Carried New Mexico by Over 2,000

New York, Nov. 10.—With returns missing tonight from only one congressional district in the United States, the Republicans and Democrats have each elected 215 representatives. The vote in New Mexico, which is still in doubt, probably will determine which party is to have a plurality of one over the other. The present member from New Mexico is a Republican.

Four Men Hold Balance.

The balance of power in the next House will be held by four men, one a progressive-protectionist from Louisiana; one an Independent from Massachusetts; one a Progressive from Minnesota; and the other a Socialist from New York. Their action apparently will determine the choice of a speaker as well as the fate of legislation which is supported or opposed on purely party lines.

In addition to the hope of electing a congressman-at-large, from New Mexico, the Democrats had one grain of comfort tonight. It was said that an official count may disclose that Thomas J. Scully has been re-elected from the third New Jersey district. They contend the chances were that Scully had been the victor by a few votes over Robert Carson, his Republican opponent, to whom the election had been previously conceded by a narrow margin.

Late returns tonight appeared further to complicate the congressional situation. Congressman James J. Britt, Republican, of the Tenth North Carolina district, was reported to have defeated his Democratic opponent, who election previously had been conceded. Unofficial figures in the Third New Jersey district, where Robert Carson, Republican, was conceded to have won, show a plurality of 14 for Thomas J. Scully, incumbent. Should Scully be declared the winner in the official count on Monday and should the re-count in North Carolina show the re-election of Britt, each party will have elected 215 members with the result in New Mexico still in doubt. Carson would give the Republicans a majority of one, with a possible chance to win an additional member in New Mexico.

President Apparently Safe.

On the face of the unofficial returns from every state in the Union, President Wilson seemed certain of 269 votes in the electoral college, unless the vote in California is split, and Mr. Hughes was certain of 243. The President could lose three votes in California and still have enough to win. This loss would be offset by New Mexico, which it seems certain Mr. Wilson has carried.

New Hampshire remains in doubt as does Minnesota, but in the latter state, Mr. Hughes has a slight lead with but a few precincts to be reported.

WILSON LEADING BY MORE THAN 2,000 IN NEW MEXICO

Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 10.—Returns from 591 out of 658 precincts in New Mexico give Hughes 25,830; Wilson 31,161.

For Senator, 564 precincts give Hubbell, Republican, 28,232; Jones, Democrat, 31,874.

For Congress, 300 precincts give Hernandez, Republican, 15,720; Walton, Democrat, 17,313.

These figures include corrections made by county clerks upon unofficial returns.

MINNESOTA STILL DOUBTFUL

WITH HUGHES IN THE LEAD

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 10.—Thirty-eight precincts whose records show they should poll about 400 votes, the 2,100 ballots cast by the state soldiers in Texas, and the vote of railroad and traveling men under the absent voters law tonight, held the balance in Minnesota between Wilson and Hughes. Therefore the state was still classed as doubtful with predictions varying widely as to the outcome of the guardsmen's balloting and a wide difference of opinion over the number of votes cast under the absent voters law.

Latest returns gave Wilson 171,534 to Hughes 178,037, a Hughes plurality of 6,503, in 3,800 precincts. The missing precincts are not considerable in population.

Wilson's Plurality Is Biggest Ever Given Any President

Washington, Nov. 10.—Secretary Tumulty tonight sent the following message to President Wilson at Williamstown, Mass.: "Election returns conclusively demonstrate that your victory at the polls is clear and decisive. You have carried two-thirds of the states of the Union. The four years of your administration have brought you approximately 2,266,614 more votes than when you were first elected in 1912. This is the greatest increase given to an American President for a second term since the Civil War. Your vote last Tuesday was 2,060,708 more than ever previously recorded for a Democratic candidate, and, despite character of opposition, is the largest vote ever received by a President from the people of this country—952,355 more than the total Taft-Roosevelt vote of 1912. You have a popular plurality of 403,312, according to a bulletin received from the Associated Press."

President's Plurality Indicated Over 400,000

New York, Nov. 10.—The total popular vote received in each of the states by President Wilson and Charles E. Hughes, but based on incomplete reports and estimates, indicated that the President received 403,312 more votes than Mr. Hughes. The table follows:

WILSON'S PLURALITY WELL OVER 3,000 IN CALIFORNIA

State Chairmen of Both Parties Agree Precincts Not Heard From Will Make But Little Change in Figures—Final Official Results May Not Be Known Before Next Saturday

San Francisco, Nov. 10.—California politicians settled down tonight to prepare for a vigilant surveillance of the semi-official count of the state by county clerks and the final count by the secretary of state. All future progress of the election will hinge upon what develops in these counts.

Legal counsel has been retained by the secretary of state. In addition, deputy United States marshals and secret service men have been detailed in the large counties, notably Alameda, Oakland with, roughly, 100,000 votes, and Los Angeles, with 250,000 votes on the two big tickets.

Tomorrow being a half holiday, the count by county clerks probably will start Monday and the final count in the office of the secretary of state on Thursday. Perhaps by a week from tomorrow the final official results may be known.

Returns from incomplete precincts were obtained with extreme difficulty. A stage starting from the shores of Lake Tahoe with one missing precinct (Continued on Page Two.)

URGES PEOPLE TO THROW ASIDE ANY PARTISAN FEELING

President Wilson Speaks to College Students and Citizens of Williamstown, Mass.

RECEIVES MANY TELEGRAMS

Acts as God-Father to Youngest Child of Mrs. Francis B. Sayre, His Daughter

Williamstown, Mass., Nov. 10.—"Now that the campaign is over, we may all address ourselves to the welfare of the Nation without thought of partisan feeling," declared President Wilson in his first public speech since the National election, delivered before a delegation of Williamstown residents and Williams College students, who greeted him here late today. The President was welcomed by the students and townspeople after the Christening of Eleanor Axson Sayre, the second child of his daughter, Mrs. Francis B. Sayre, and for whom he stood as God father.

Soon after his arrival at the home of his son-in-law, assistant to the President of Williams College, the delegation, headed by President H. A. Garfield, of the college, marched to the purchase of the house and was cheered enthusiastically by the students.

"I came here to forget the field of politics and for a brief rest. I came simply to visit my daughter and to attend a simple ceremony here today," "Now that the campaign is over, we may all address ourselves to the welfare of the Nation without thought of partisan feeling."

The President referred to his service as chief executive of Princeton University, saying he knew from experience there was politics even in the running of a college.

"Politics," he continued, "is, after all, a means of getting something done, of putting forward ideas. It is fight, but the man who does not love the fight has no red blood in his veins."

Mr. Garfield, a son of President Garfield, the father of the President, was present. The President's words during the campaign had been "Full of wisdom and light." He added: "We wish you good-speed in your great effort."

When the President arrived here this afternoon he found a stack of telegrams three feet high congratulating him on his re-election.

Soon after his arrival, Mr. Wilson, Mrs. Wilson, and Miss Margaret Woodrow Banes, his cousin, the President went to St. John's Protestant Episcopal church to attend the christening. The family party rode the few blocks to the church in an automobile. The baby cried continuously. Inside the church only a few intimate friends of Mrs. Sayre witnessed the ceremony.

TELLS OF WORK OF CHURCH IN EAST

Rev. Dr. C. L. Brown and Rev. J. L. Morgan Speakers at Synod Last Night

DISCUSS LAYMEN'S WORK

United Synod's Proceedings Yesterday Were Marked By Many Features of Interest—Work Among Negroes Starts Lively Debate

Last night's session of the fifteenth Biennial Convention of the United Synod of the Lutheran Church in the South, which convened at St. Paul's Church here Thursday morning for sessions which will come to a close with a business session Monday afternoon, was featured by two splendid addresses by Rev. Dr. C. L. Brown and Rev. J. L. Morgan.

Dr. Brown declared that Japan and other countries of the Orient offered a splendid field for missionary work but that there are now three things which hinder the workers who attempt to Christianize the country and these are worship of idols, suspicion and antagonism of the native churches. Mr. Morgan made a plea to men and women of the young men of the Synod to push forward the work of the church in the South.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock the delegates to the Convention will enjoy a trolley ride to Wrightsville Beach, special cars which will leave from Sixth and Princess streets having been chartered for their transportation.

Japan's Need of Gospel. Speaking on the opportunities that were offered for missionary work in Asia and especially Japan, Dr. Brown told of the manner in which the Christian doctrine was being received by the Japanese, and in this connection told of a member of Parliament who in an article to one of the leading magazines, had declared that the nation needs Christianity in order to rid it of the devil.

This same man, declared the speaker, had defended a murderer at the bar, and had sought clemency for his client on the grounds that he had embraced Christianity after his crime was committed and was, therefore, a changed man. Dr. Brown pointed out that there were three elements to be contended with in taking Christianity to the land. These elements are idolatry, suspicion and the antagonism of the native churches.

Mr. Morgan had for the keynote of his address, the need of the church for men to carry on the work of the church. The South he pointed out was larger than practically all of Europe with the exception of the Russian Empire, and yet numerically, the Lutheran church was somewhat behind some of its sister churches. His speech was a direct challenge to the people of the Synod, especially the young men, to take up the work. He emphasized that it was men and not money that was needed first.

The afternoon session of Synod was featured by an hour and a half discussion (Continued on Page Eight.)

GERMANS ON RUSSIAN FRONT CAPTURE OVER 2 MILES OF TRENCHES

ERRORS IN COUNT IN NEW HAMPSHIRE

Outcome of the Vote for Presidential Electors in That State Further Clouded

WILSON PROBABLY WINNER

Figures Indicate That He Has a Lead of Seventy Votes Over Hughes. Preparations for Re-Count Being Made.

Concord, N. H., Nov. 10.—Discovery of errors today in official returns further clouded the outcome of New Hampshire's vote for presidential electors.

Secretary of State Bean announced in his final statement of the day that, with five of the 294 precincts missing, the certified count was: Hughes 43,422; Wilson 43,098, a Hughes lead of 324.

He pointed out, however, that these figures included the Hughes vote in two precincts the clerks of which had failed to credit Wilson electors with any votes in their certificates. In each instance the clerks later admitted that an error had been made.

The clerk of Ward 2, Dover, said he should have reported 239 votes for Wilson and the clerk of Ward 3, Keen, said he had omitted 135 Wilson votes inadvertently. Both officials said they would correct their returns on sub-balls forwarded by the secretary of state tomorrow.

The five precincts not accounted for in the certified returns are shown by press figures to have cast an aggregate of 293 for Hughes and 263 for Wilson. Unofficially the secretary of state said the figures indicated a Wilson lead in the state of 70 votes. The combined total of certified and press reports was: Hughes 43,715; Wilson 43,785.

Preparations for the re-count demanded by the Republican leaders yesterday brought ballot boxes from many places to the state capital today. All were placed in a special vault to be held for the inspection which, the law states, shall not begin until 15 days after the filing of notice.

The Democratic state committee issued the following statement tonight: "We accept as approximately correct the tabulations showing a plurality in this state of 70 for Wilson. That Wilson has carried the state admits of no doubt. No question of the ballot can show a material change. If there is any change at all it will be favorable to the President. The Democrats have not asked for a re-count, and have made no charges of fraud at any time. They have merely taken steps (Continued on Page Two.)

More Than 3,000 Prisoners Taken in the Fighting North of the Pinsk Marshes

PETROGRAD ADMITS LOSS

Advance Southward of Russo-Rumanian Forces in the Dobruja Region Continues

LOSE IN PREDEAL SECTOR

Much Aerial Fighting Has Taken Place on Western Front

Driving against the center of the Russian line on the eastern front, German troops have gained possession of Russian positions on a front of about two and a half miles. The attack, which resulted also in the capture of more than 3,000 prisoners, took place in the district of Skrobowa, 12 miles northeast of Baranovich, north of the Pinsk marshes, and were only isolated fighting has occurred lately. The Russians, Berlin also says, lost 27 machine guns and 12 mine throwers.

Petrograd Admits Loss. The success of the Germans is admitted by the Petrograd war office, which announces that the Russians, after stubborn resistance against seven onslaughts were finally compelled to fall back to their second line of trenches. Elsewhere on the eastern front to the Carpathians, there has been little fighting, according to the official communications.

Russo-Rumanian Advance. In Dobruja the advance of the Russo-Rumanian forces southward continues, and Petrograd records a battle with Field Marshal von Mackensen's troops in the region of Tchernavoda recently abandoned by the Rumanians. At Tchernavoda is the bridge of the railroad running between Constantza and Bucharest and it is for this bridge the Russians and Rumanians are fighting. Petrograd also announced the occupation of several towns between Hirsova and Tchernavoda. Berlin says there have been no important changes in Dobruja.

On the Transylvania-Rumanian front Archduke Charles has assumed the offensive and pushed back the Rumanians. In the Preddeal sector stubborn fighting continues, with both the Austro-Germans and the Rumanians claiming progress. The Austrians have almost completely recovered the ground lost in the Georgeny mountains, November 4.

Several trench elements north of the Somme near Les Boeufs and Salilley have been captured by the French. Berlin states Franco-British attacks between Geudecourt and Salilley were repulsed.

Much Aerial Fighting. There has been much aerial fighting on the western front. Berlin records the destruction of 17 Entente aeroplanes and Paris asserts that 10 German machines were brought down. London admits that seven British aircraft failed to return to their base after night flights in the air. In one of the fights, a squadron of 30 aeroplanes and a German squadron of between 30 and 40 were engaged.

Inclement weather continues to hamper operations on a large scale on the Macedonian and Austro-Italian fronts.

TOM LINDSEY SEES A. C. L.

Seeks $10,000 in Damage Suit for Personal Injuries Alleged

Durham, N. C., Nov. 10.—T. H. Lindsey, an impersonator and entertainer, is suing the Atlantic Coast Line Railway for recovery of $10,000 because of alleged injuries sustained from a stray bolt in one of its coaches. He was traveling from Goldsboro in the direction of Wilmington, and complains that when he opened the car door the unjointed bolt twisted his foot and his hip was dislocated. The trial has consumed the greater portion of two days' sitting of Durham court. Douglas & Douglas, of Raleigh, and Brawley & Gantt, of Durham, represent the plaintiff. Fuller, Rende & Fuller represent the defendant.

RECORD COTTON PRICES

Quotation at Mobile, Ala., Yesterday Closed at 19c.

Mobile, Ala., Nov. 10.—Spot cotton in the Mobile market broke all records today, closing at 19 cents, two and a half cents higher than at the time of the famous Sully year of record prices.

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 10.—Sea Island cotton was sold in Savannah today at fifty cents a pound, the highest price ever paid for the staple in the memory of the local cotton exchange.

MILITIA IS SENT TO PROTECT CONSTABLES

Five Companies Coast Artillery Ordered to Anderson, S. C.

Sheriff Fails to Serve Writs of Ejectment Against Striking Mill Operatives, Reported to Have Resorted to Arms.

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 10.—Governor Manning tonight ordered five National Guard coast artillery companies under Major Robertson, of Greenville, to proceed immediately to Anderson and direct that five divisions of Naval Militia be held subject to call, in order that magistrates' constables might be protected in enforcing ejectment writs against striking operatives of the Equinox and Gluck cotton mills, who occupy cottages on the mill premises and have resisted in arms the magistrates' process.

Recourse to the military was taken after Sheriff Ashley, the highest peace officer in the county, had telegraphed the governor that he had not yet served the writs.

"I will do this work," the sheriff said, "according to my own judgment and if this don't suit you, you can send up here and do it yourself."

NOISIEST TURN-OUT IN FAYETTEVILLE'S LIFE

Old Town Painted Red and Flooded With Red Fire.

"Hughes' Coffin" Borne in Procession By Ball Bearers Labeled With Names of Local Republicans—Speeches Made

(Special Star Telegram) Fayetteville, N. C., Nov. 10.—Fayetteville is celebrating the re-election of Woodrow Wilson tonight with the biggest, most joyous, most spontaneous and noisiest turn-out in the history of the old town. Apparently everybody in or near Fayetteville and many from Hoke and other counties are out on the streets. They started in to paint the town red and then flooded it with red fire.

A half mile or more of automobiles, motor trucks and fire trucks, carrying hundreds if not thousands of constantly cheering Wilsonites, a band and a shrieking fire engine started parading the streets at 8:30 and at a late hour are keeping it up. Seemingly every noise making device known to man is in use.

A "Hughes' coffin" was carried in the procession borne by pallbearers labeled with names of local Republicans. The pallbearers carried red fire. Speeches were made to the throngs by J. R. Hall, John A. Oates and John Underwood, of Fayetteville; George B. McLeod and Frank Gough, of Lumberton, and J. Worthy Johnson, of Raeford.

Scores Another Point In Efficient Service

New York, Nov. 10.—The following message has been received today: "Melville E. Stone, Manager: I am sure that I speak for the entire membership of the Associated Press in congratulating you and the working staff throughout the country on the splendid work done in both the campaign and election service. The high traditions of the organization have been highly upheld and the report itself far better than ever before. On behalf of the membership I thank you and the force individually most earnestly. (Signed) 'FRANK B. NOYER, President.'"

IN THE REALM OF SPORTS

Close Contests On Three Important The Gridiron Today Southern Games

GAMES OF HEAVY CALIBRE SCHEDULED, INCLUDING HARVARD VS. PRINCETON—A. & M. PLAYS NAVY.

New York, Nov. 10.—The approaching climax of the Eastern football season is indicated by the calibre of the games scheduled for decision tomorrow. Harvard will play Princeton at Cambridge; Cornell is to entertain Michigan at Ithaca; Yale will tackle Brown at New Haven and Pennsylvania and Dartmouth are to clash at Philadelphia. These are the leading contests of the day, but there are several others which fall only a point below in popular interest, the list including that between the Navy and the North Carolina Aggies.

Chief attention will naturally center on the meeting between the Harvard and Princeton eleven, as each in turn will face Yale within the next week or two and the victor of the triangular series will be a decided factor in the awarding of gridiron honors.

Princeton goes to Cambridge confident that the Orange and Black will triumph, notwithstanding that the warring slightly favors Harvard. The Tigers are admitted to have a strong veteran eleven, while inner gridiron circles are again with tales of some remarkable new plays the Nassau eleven has in reserve.

The kicking game is likely to be a big factor in deciding the winner as it is probable that both eleven will endeavor to strike after obtaining possession of the ball well within the opponents territory. Driggs and Tibbott will attend to the punting while Harvard will rely on Horween, and it would appear that Princeton has a slight advantage in this department of the play. In other respect there does not appear to be much difference in the ability of the teams.

Yale will face a hard test in meeting Brown, which is still to be defeated, and the outcome will give a true line on the ability of the Blue.

In preceding contests the Blue have shown flashes of great power, marred by uncertainty and inconsistency. Brown is one of the smoothest football machines in the East this season and Yale must make the full power of its attack to beat if the Princeton players are defeated.

Cornell and Michigan figure in the one inter-sectional game of the day and the clash should produce sensational football. The Wolverines invade Ithaca determined to show that Michigan's team compares favorably with the best of the Eastern combinations.

If Coach Sharpe's players are on edge, they should force the Arbor team to uncover its best football to win. Another royal football battle should mark the meeting of Pennsylvania and Dartmouth. The Hanover team has demonstrated its power even in two defeats administered by Georgetown and Princeton.

It was not until the Syracuse game last week, however, that the New Hampshire eleven showed full strength into the attack. The Quakers also have shown signs of improvement since the Pittsburgh contest.

Both the Army and Navy teams should come through the day's play without defeat. The Soldiers will play Maine and should have little difficulty in winning. Last season the Sailors were defeated by the North Carolina Aggies and the record of the victors to Annapolis tomorrow indicates that the Navy will have to play better football than it has shown in the last few weeks in order to win decisively.

GEORGIA TECH, VANDERBILT AND AUBURN PLAY ALABAMA, TENNESSEE AND FLORIDA, RESPECTIVELY

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 10.—The three principal contests on Southern gridirons tomorrow are expected to go far towards narrowing the field of contestants for premier football honors of this section. Georgia Tech, Vanderbilt and Auburn, considered among the strongest contenders, meet Alabama, Tennessee and Florida, respectively.

Tennessee, which will meet Vanderbilt at Knoxville, and Alabama which plays Georgia Tech here, have not been defeated this season and followers of the game say a lucky break for either might give them victory.

Tennessee has won all of its battles in handy style with the exception of the Chattanooga contest last Saturday. Vanderbilt, on the other hand, has not been really extended this season and defeated Virginia, Kentucky State, Mississippi and all of its other opponents by large scores.

Alabama's performance against Sewanee did little to raise the Crimson stock. Coach Kelley, however, is said to have sprung a new formation in this battle which was particularly effective as a ground gainer.

In the back field, Alabama has a player who is likely to get away for a touch down at any time. Reports from Georgia Tech say all of the players came out of the Tulane battle in fair shape.

As for the Aggies, who last week, is expected to have little trouble disposing of Florida at Jacksonville. Florida has not won a game this season.

Tulane invades the southwest, playing Rice, at Houston, Texas, while Washington and Lee, conquerors of the navy, meets Bucknell, the fourth eastern eleven on its schedule at Lexington, Va. South Carolina goes to Georgia to play Virginia and Georgia battles with Furman at Athens.

The Sewanee and Chattanooga meeting at Chattanooga is expected to give a basis for comparison between Sewanee and Tennessee which meet next week in the fourth of the series of contests between the four leading Tennessee universities, Vanderbilt, Tennessee, Sewanee and Chattanooga.

Other games scheduled for Southern teams tomorrow include: University of North Carolina vs. Davidson, at Winston-Salem; Louisiana State vs. Mississippi A. & M. at Starkville; Clemson vs. V. M. I. at Richmond; V. P. I. vs. Wake Forest, at Blackburg; Howard vs. Hamilton, at Hamilton, Ala.; Gallaudet vs. Roanoke, at Roanoke; Hampden-Sydney vs. Richmond at Hampden-Sydney; William and Mary vs. Randolph-Macon, at Ashland, Va.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET WINS IN FENDER BY 600 MAJORITY

Burnett Elected to State Senate by Increased Majority.

Burgaw, N. C., Nov. 10.—The election in Fender county resulted in a majority for the Democratic ticket of 600 in round numbers. Of the candidates varied from this little. The county candidates elected are: R. T. Murray, sheriff; John B. Davis, register of deeds; A. E. Burton, coronor; D. J. Farrior, Sr., F. P. Flynn and Geo. J. Moore, county commissioners.

For the Legislature J. B. Scott was returned to the House and John H. Burnett to the Senate.

Burnett's majority in both Fender and Duplin shows an increase over two years ago on the senatorial ticket.

Notwithstanding the stock law and free range fight, the Democrats voted the ticket almost solidly, although the stock law people recognized the fact that the ticket was a free range ticket almost entirely.

Both Sides Still Claiming The 10th Returns, As Officially Reported by Counties, Show Britt in Lead by Few Votes—DEMOCRATS HOPEFUL

(Special Star Telegram) Asheville, N. C., Nov. 10.—Both Congressmen Britt and Senator Weaver continue to claim election to Congress in the Tenth district and it will take the final official count to decide. Apparent returns give Britt a lead of seven votes but the Democrats say this lead will be more than offset by irregular ballots which will not be officially counted. The official count of the district will probably end tomorrow.

THE TIGERS RETAIN LEAD

Hold Grip on First Place in Basketball League By Winning Third Successive Game. Good Crowd

	W	L	Pct.
Tigers	3	0	1.000
Americans	2	1	.667
Athletics	1	2	.333
Red Sox	0	3	.000

The fierce and hungry Tigers retained their hold on the top rung of the Y. M. C. A. Basketball League ladder last night, by clanking up the Athletics 35 to 23, while the tall end Red Sox went into the Charles Evans Hughes class as leaders of forlorn hopes by dropping their third consecutive game to the Americans 33 to 14.

The first skirmish between the Americans and Red Sox was more of a farce than a real game. The Sox were outclassed from start to finish, while Shepard and Myers proved a combination that could not be overcome.

The Athletics and Tigers put up a fast and snappy article of ball. The team work and generalship of the Tigers being too much for the Athletics this game was featured by the fine shooting of LeGwin and Rhodes, for the winners while Davis and Little showed best for the losers.

One of the largest crowds of the season witnessed the two games. The line up: First game: American (23) centre Red Sox (14) Shepard forward Farmer Hanson forward K. Davis Solomon guard Whitehead Gallagher guard Kelly Goals, Shepard, 5; Myers, 7; Hanson, 3; Solomon, 1; Rich, 3; Farmer, 2; Whitehead, 1; goal from foul, Shepard 1.

OIL! OIL! OIL!

THE GREAT NEW STATE OF OKLAHOMA rolls in liquid wealth. Thousands made rich. Oil hits top at $1.55 a barrel. State produced 123,000,000 barrels last year. Throughout the oil fields are wonderful examples of fame and fortune gained at the rush of oil. Dan Tucker, ten-year-old boy, gets $190 daily, oil royalty. Sarah Rector, a colored child, receives $15,000 monthly. Henry Page, former railroad brakeman, gets $100,000 monthly from oil lease. Roy Johnson, a Michigan printer, cleared $100,000 on a $200 investment. Cole McChes, Oklahoma carpenter, made $83,000 on a $175 investment. Hundreds of other purchasers of cheap Indian lands, and heirs to Indian land allotments, have reaped huge fortunes from oil royalties.

THEATRICAL

You know what the last two Saturday's have been at the Royal—how great those newer Metro Wonder plays are; so prepare yourself for the biggest yet today. "The Masked Rider" starring handsome Harold Lockwood with beautiful and fascinating May Allison.

The story of "The Masked Rider" is one of the most gripping ever utilized in a photodrama. It shows hate such as only a rough moonshiner of North Carolina mountains can feel when he sees a polished interloper attempt to steal from him not only the desire of his heart, but his very means of livelihood. Opposed to this is such a wish for vengeance as only a noble man can feel when he discovers that his brother has been cruelly murdered, his only offense that of being true to the highest law he knows.

How these two elements are combined in one of the most powerful combats of primitive passion ever staged is seen in the man-hunt undertaken by the "Taron" and the "Masked Rider" to trap Spud Archer, and times, Reilly's famous "Globe Trotters" will present that great comedy music show, "The New Butler," the greatest comedy musical show that has ever been presented in Wilmington. There is no doubt at all about this—it was substantially and forcibly proven by the tremendous crowds yesterday who burst forth in applause at the slightest provocation so spontaneous was the fun-making all the way through, with a merry melange of songs and dances that kept everybody in a right good frame of mind.

The Empire Quartette, which has suffered somewhat during the weak owing to the absence from it of Ernest Linwood, the inimitable blackface, who has been suffering with a severe cold, presented the greatest hits yet, as Linwood is back in shape and did his part yesterday in this number. You don't want to miss this—you haven't before seen this inimitable comedy star in this famous singing quartette and it is indeed a rare treat.

Fox Reilly, Harold Pate and all the balance of this all-star aggregation have a box full of the biggest hits of all to pull off in this great show, and his brother-band of moonshiners, guilty of the murder of George Edmunds. This is heightened by the query as to whether the "Taron" and the masked rider are not one and the same. And beautiful Jill Jamison, the winsome little mountain girl of Bat Cave, has her fight with the brutal leader of the moonshiners, whose mad and frustrated passion leaps all bounds, in which she proves herself a true daughter of the old South. Perilous rides down rocky mountain slopes, man-to-man struggles under a starless sky, add to the thrill and suspense of "The Masked Rider," which for sheer power has not yet been matched.

And last but not least, it was filmed in the picturesque Bat Cave section of the mountains of North Carolina.

There is another big feature today—Tom Mix, and Victoria Forde in the latest great single reel Selig thriller, "Tom's Sacrifice," and that's guarantee that it's simply great.

All Star Bill at Bijou
Today at the Bijou there will be an all-star line-up of the brightest talent ever seen on a single day's bill at the Bijou or any other theatre, for that matter.

The bill is headed by the latest thrilling episode of that great Kalem series, "The Girl From Frisco," entitled "The Witch of the Dark" one of the most spectacular, singular, and thrilling two reel episodes yet of that great serial that has been drawing such big crowds for the past several weeks.

Marin Sals and True Boardman are doing the greatest work in their entire screen career in this great serial, and it is truly a fascinating picture to watch beautiful Marin Sals perform the daring stunts that she pulls off in this great serial. This chapter, with entirely new surroundings from any of the past episodes, all will be found one of the greatest interest sustaining of all so far, and should certainly prove a winner.

And now comes the treat—"Gertrude's Garter" is the title, and it's just as rich, just as racy and just as laughable as you might suppose. And the stars are Rosemary Theby and Harry Myers. Need we say more! Anyway, you won't leave in the middle of this one, we'll guarantee you that!

And on top of this another great Vim comedy scream "Twin Fists," a rip-roaring farce comedy that will send you home in a good humor.

Nobody Home.
Any time an audience goes out of a theatre after a musical comedy performance laughing and humming the principal songs you may rest assured that particular "show" has made a hit and will make a lot of money. That is one reason why Mr. John F. Slocum knows that he will buy a lot more real estate this year. His musical absurdity known as "Nobody Home," is just bristling with musical gems and song hits and never a performance occurs but what the song boys reaps a rich harvest. Such tunes as are to be found in "Any Old Night," "Red, Wonderful Red," "A Question of Bait" and a dozen others are bound to be whistled and sung again by everybody with half an ear for melody. "Nobody Home" is underlined as the attraction at the Academy of Music, Wednesday, November 22.

TOM MERRICK HAS UNTIL DECEMBER 15TH TO LIVE

Governor Fixes Date for Election of Wilmington Negro

(Special Star Correspondence)
Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 10.—Governor Craig made an order today fixing December 15 as the date for the election of Thomas Merrick, of Wilmington, condemned to death for murder. He is a negro and killed a white man named Hudson with whom he quarreled. The case was originally tried by Judge W. P. Stacy and appeals to the Supreme Court characterized a hard fight by counsel for the defense to save the life of the prisoner. Hudson was unloading a wagon at a plant where Merrick had been working and they quarreled. Hudson putting him out of the place. He came back with a gun and killed Hudson, thus constituting a case of premeditated first degree murder. Burke Bridgers, of Wilmington, of counsel for Merrick, has been notified of the action of the Governor.

Public Health Service Now Attempting To Discover the Secrets of Infantile Paralysis—"Uncle Sam's Germ Farm"—Monkeys, Rabbits and Guinea Pigs As Life Savers.

Copyright, 1916, by The International Syndicate.

LITTLE does the average man of woman know what a debt of gratitude the world owes the scientist who, in the quiet laboratory with his microscope, studies out the various problems that confront the medical world. It has always been a custom to look to the family doctor for relief when some beloved one is ill, but above and before the doctor comes the laboratory worker, who has pointed out the way to cure the patient and also to prevent the spread of the disease.

While a great plague—infantile paralysis—has been raging in the United States, during the past summer, the little known disease has been a subject of study and experimentation by government experts. These skilled workers, in the Hygienic Laboratory of the Public Health Service, in Washington, have wasted no effort in attempting to stamp out the dread disease and in preventing its spread from certain sections where it was most prevalent.

Although only a few important facts are yet known concerning infantile paralysis, it is claimed that it is only a question of time until the scientists have uncovered its secrets—its origin, its method of contagion, and its cure.

Experiments With The Disease.

It has been found that the Hygienic Laboratory, sometimes called "Uncle Sam's Germ Farm," that the infantile paralysis germ is a difficult crop. It is claimed that no one has ever seen the germ, for it has never been isolated. Yet its size is well known, and the scientists are aware of this because the germ will go through a filter which will catch another germ of a known size, and it will not go through a filter which another known germ that is smaller will go through.

And in this experiment it is shown that the infantile paralysis germ is not known in the ordinary way. At this point the homely monkey comes to the rescue of science. Within the last two or three years unprecedented advance has been made with infantile paralysis, measles and typhus fever through the aid of the monkey. It has been found that neither rabbits or guinea pigs will become affected with these diseases, and the medical men have been forced to follow along different lines in their experimentation. The monkey, possibly because he is closer related to man, contracts the diseases that do not affect rabbits and guinea pigs.

Whenever an inoculated monkey dies, his spinal cord is removed and placed in glycerine, under which conditions the germ of the disease keeps alive for months. A new case of the disease may be started by infecting a monkey with a piece of the spinal cord.

That the large stable fly will transmit infantile paralysis has been proven beyond a question of doubt. The stable fly, which is a small member of the fly family which distinguishes itself by standing on its head when biting, has been placed in a cage with an affected monkey. The fly has bitten the monkey and the latter has been removed to another cage. Then a monkey in perfectly good health has been placed in the cage with the fly, which goes on with its biting. The healthy monkey was taken ill with the disease.

Facts About The Laboratory.

The Hygienic Laboratory is divided into four sections, the department of chemistry, the department of zoology, the department of pharmacology, and the department of bacteriology. The last department is devoted to the study of germs and germ diseases. There is time and attention to bestow upon everything that concerns the public health.

Chambers Of Horrors.

There are two chambers of horrors in the Hygienic Laboratory. They are behind double doors, such as are used to protect bank vaults, so as to preserve the proper temperature and protect the remainder of the laboratory from infection. The first is the cold room, which is a stock room. There are kept the deadly bacilli in a quiescent state. In one bottle are housed enough lockjaw or tetanus germs to kill every man, woman and child in a great city. In another are kept the deadly hydrophobia germs, more venomous than a serpent's bite. Still another contains enough diphtheria germs to kill all the children in the country. The entire room is filled with these potential enemies of mankind.

The other chamber of horrors is the hot or growing room. When a growth is desired of any particular germ, the proper medium, usually beef broth, is impregnated with the germ taken from the cold room and placed in the hot room, which is kept at a temperature of the human body. There the germs multiply so rapidly that a growth is obtained in from forty-eight hours to a week, according to the germ being grown. At the end of the time the medium used is full of the germs.

Numbers of rats and other small animals are kept confined in small cages and are fed on certain specific diets. The effects upon the rats are observed, and from these are reasoned out the effects of these various foods upon the human system. One rat is fed upon a normal ration, another upon a diet absolutely lacking in nitrogen, a third upon some one lacking in some other essential. The animals are carefully examined in every particular and compared. The effects of the various diets upon their locomotion, heart action, temperature and other physical conditions are carefully noted and used as something to reason from in case similar symptoms are found in human beings.

Vaccination And Serums.

Vaccination is the introduction of the live virus or poison germ, greatly attenuated or weakened so as not to be dangerous, into the human body, thus giving the patient the disease in a mild form. Nature arises to repel the attack of the germ. She forms her own antitoxin or army of valiant soldiers in the form of antibodies to repel the invasion. It is an unequal combat, as the germ is always weakened. This light attack, however, has rendered the patient more or less immune from further attacks.

Antitoxins or serums are made by inoculating an animal with the disease, letting the army of germ soldiers be formed in the blood of the animal and then transplanting them to the human body to fight the disease. Many years ago, mice were inoculated with typhoid germs which had been killed by heat, with the result that they rendered the mice immune to the disease. Then the experiment was tried with rabbits and guinea pigs, and it proved

An incubator for Hatching Bubonic Plague Bacilli. The Bacilli in Various Stages of Development, are kept in Test Tubes, Packed in Boxes, in the Lower Compartment

The first experiment on a human being proved successful.

The Public Health Service has carried on some very interesting experiments along this line. The use of anti-typhoid vaccine requires large doses. It is usually given in three doses, the first of which is five hundred million dead germs, the second and third, one billion each. This idea has been traced to Pasteur, who cured chicken cholera by the introduction of chicken cholera germs into the live animal.

While the claim is not made that typhoid vaccine is an absolute preventative, it greatly lessens the danger of attacks and also modifies their severity. This vaccine is made by growing the typhoid germs in the proper media, washing them in salt solution, heating them to kill the germs, counting them to get the proper doses, then bottling the doses and labelling the number of dead germs in each bottle.

Treatment Of Rabies.

One of the first things that strikes the eye of a visitor at the Hygienic Laboratory is the rabies department, for the treatment of those who have been bitten by dogs or other animals suspected of having hydrophobia and for the preparation of the antidote for this dreadful malady. This antidote is used not only in the cases that are taken to the laboratory for treatment, but is sent out to boards of health all over the United States. The antidote is prepared by the inoculation of

An Interior of the Hygienic Laboratory. The Rabbits in the Large Glass Jars on the Floor have been Inoculated with Virus of Hydrophobia

Drying the Spinal Cords of Inoculated Rabbits

a series of rabbits to weaken the virus so as to render it safe to administer to mankind. One thing, however, has changed since Pasteur's time. He used the brain of the rabbit for the preparation of the virus. It has since been found that the spinal cord is safer, and therefore is used.

On the floor are cases containing rabbits and guinea pigs that have been inoculated with hydrophobia. These, after they have developed the disease, are killed and their spinal cords extracted, the cords are allowed to dry for varying periods of from one to ten days, in order to obtain the necessary strengths of poison needed for treatment of patients. The longer the cords are allowed to dry, the weaker the poison becomes.

The surrounding shelves contain the labelled bottles of poison of each degree of strength. When the patient is brought in, he is placed on a glass operating table and an injection of the weakest degree of hydrophobia poison administered. Three such doses are given the first day. The next day the dose is repeated, except that the next stronger degree is given, and so on for ten successive days, by which time the original poison gotten through the bite of the dog is neutralized.

The method used in the study of various diseases embodies a very unique system. Several guinea pigs or rabbits are inoculated with the disease which is being studied, and they are placed in a large glass jar about two feet in diameter. Plenty of food is given them. Then a wide stretch of vaseline is run around the inside of the vessel higher than the animal can reach, so as to make a barrier over which the parasite that carries the disease cannot cross. A wire screen is placed over the top and the scientists await the development of the disease.

The results are watched with as much care in each individual case as the most painstaking physician would bestow upon a human patient. The animal's temperature is taken every day and recorded on his chart as accurately as in the most perfectly conducted hospital. The amount of poison, instead of medicine, that is given is duly recorded. A complete record is kept until the death of the animal.

As several animals are kept in the same jar, it is necessary to distinguish them in order to keep correct individual records. For this purpose there is an outline on each record card of a guinea pig in the upper left corner. On this outline its distinctive markings are recorded. All the cards of the pigs in the jar are kept on the wire setting above, and as each animal is examined every day his condition is marked on the card. After one of the animals dies, he is dissected and his case studied. The virus, or antitoxin, as the case may be, is collected and slides are made for use under the microscope.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1916.

TOP OF THE MORNING.

When the heart goes before like a lamp, and illumines the pathway.
Many things are made clear that else lie hidden in darkness.
—LONGFELLOW.

Bickett was running some.

Eat your crow! It ain't our time to eat.

Huh! They had us scared one while,
while.

Westward the course of empire takes
its way!

Who said "As goes Maine, so goes
the Nation"?

Woodrow Wilson's way continues to be a winning way.

Those negroes were not imported to the right states.

They hate to give in to a purely American victory.

Well, blast it if it didn't spring surprises upon all of us.

George let George do it in the Third congressional district.

Oh, well, we couldn't see how it could be otherwise.

What would America be without the South and West anyhow?

Hurrah for Vance McCormick! He helped to keep our courage up.

If Teddy were to tell the truth, he would feel worse than a Bull Moose.

If they are gonna put us out of the saddle, let 'em come on here and try it.

Let the South and West shake. They didn't have to ask the effete East about it.

The West joins the South in the saddle. That's what Hughes gets for this sectionalism.

Hurrah for Woodrow Wilson, the first Democratic president to succeed himself in office in fifty years!

It looks like Wall Street has lost its political power as well as its financial control of the country.

The G. O. P. came very nearly saving the country for the nabobs who subscribed nearly $5,000,000 to elect Hughes.

The pay of officeholders is larger than average salaries, but it is poor pay for being cursed and then scared to death
by the incoming returns.

Who would have suspected that California, proclaimed for weeks as a Republican stronghold, would decide the election in favor of Wilson?

Europe can't dump a thing on us.
Republican courage is like that of a girl
who just naturally looks under her bed
before she is content to go to sleep.

The War Department has decreed that, so far as our military establishment is concerned, aeroplanes are to be called airplanes. That is plain United States and certain it is best.

The Star played safe. It never announced the result of the election until the Associated Press did. Consequently it didn't have to eat crow. We planned our faith to the A. P. in the beginning and never unplanned it, and we have nothing to regret or apologize
for.

Florida farmers used to be glad to get $8 to $9 for a cow on the range,
but they are now getting twice that price. The near-by packing house market at Jacksonville will enable the farmers to market their cattle and hogs
at better prices without taking the risk
to ship them to long distance markets.
The livestock industry is now rapidly growing in Florida and it is a new opportunity for farmers.

AMERICANS WANTED WILSON.

From a strictly American point of view, the re-election of President Wilson is just what should have been the logical outcome of the election. Had the choice been left to American voters only, the result would have been overwhelmingly in favor of Wilson.
We haven't the slightest doubt about it.

As it is, President Wilson has carried enough states to give him 278 votes in the electoral college of which 268 is a majority necessary to elect. The President will carry New Mexico, which will add four more electoral votes to his column—sixteen more than is necessary. If California's electoral vote should be split, the President could lose six of that state's electoral votes
and then be re-elected. As the Republican state chairman explained,
however, a split is more of a possibility
than a probability. Since the President's majority in California is something like 3,000, and as the vote was back-checked, a re-count would not seem worth while. In North Dakota,
the President's majority is about 500,
but if California is held in column, as surely it will be, he would still have a majority in the electoral college. He could lose both New Mexico and North Dakota and still be elected. It is hardly possible to change the result by
a re-count of all the doubtful states,
for practically all of them would have to be changed to Hughes to give him a showing. If there should be a recount, there is hardly the remotest possibility that the President's majority of 3,000 in California or his probable majority of 2,000 in New Mexico could be so reduced as to give those states to Hughes.

The fact is, the President is elected.
The South and the West did it, and they proved to the country that New York's big electoral vote is not necessary to elect an American president.
The reason for Wilson's re-election is that Americans went to the polls and did it. The President was representative of the American type of citizen,
and his election is a triumph for American neutrality. He represented a definite and tried policy, while his opponents represented vague and indefinite ideas which seemed to appeal to a large vote not wholly in sympathy with the American attitude toward the belligerents in Europe.

For one reason, Wilson was re-elected because the Progressives did not belong to Theodore Roosevelt and he was found wanting when it came to delivering the goods to Hughes, reactionary Republicanism and Wall Street. The Democratic President was re-elected because reactionary Republicanism did not deserve to come back. The party nominated a man whose close relations
with reactionism and special interests
was established in the banquet halls in New York. He was acceptable to the very element which caused the Progressives to leave the old party and organize another. Once again the interests financed the Republican campaign and that was enough to make the people open their eyes.

The people would not take chances on being "betrayed" any more, so they re-elected Woodrow Wilson.

PEANUT GROWING IN TEXAS

Texas is a huge state and it always does things on a big scale. Last spring the Houston Post suggested peanut growing to the Texans and they took up the idea with the result that more than 300,000 acres were planted in peanuts this year. If Texas can grow peanuts as North Carolina grows
them, the Texans will harvest a peanut crop of not less than 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 bushels.

Last spring the Houston paper ventured the assertion that peanuts would be profitable, but now it says the farmers secured profits far beyond the Post prophecies. The Post is now warning the farmers that they had better not go too heavily into peanut production, lest they overdo the thing
and depress the market below the profit line. The South really cannot raise too many peanuts, if it knows what to do with them, but the question is one of marketing and that has to be learned first by the growers. Probably Houston knows what to do with peanuts, but if not that Texas city will soon find out.

However, North Carolina is the place
to grow peanuts. Some of our farmers grow two crops of them a season.

A LAND SHOW IN GEORGIA

On the 18th of November Georgia
is to have another Georgia products
day to illustrate the advantages of diversified farming. One of its features will be a fine dinner prepared from products grown in Georgia only.
The idea is not simply to scrap up enough for that dinner, but to emphasize the fact that Georgia can produce
all varieties of food products and that she ought to grow them for home use as well as for sale abroad. Exhibits of food products grown on Georgia land will convince everybody what can be done on any of our Southern lands. Georgia is endeavoring to attract home seekers and she is to have a land show, in order that visitors can see for themselves what land can do for a man. Georgia wants to show what she can grow so as to induce others to go there and see what Georgia land is capable of. Georgia also will point out to all visitors where
and how they can buy a Georgia
farm.

Wilson was elected because there were landladies for him in the South and West.

HOW TO GET INDUSTRIES

Growing cities are anxious to become industrial centers and they have tried many plans to get industries. We know of very few cities to get industries but we have known some industries to get cities. Most cities which have industries got them by establishing industrial enterprises themselves,
while the industrial eligibility of a city
as to raw materials and distribution advantages gets more industries than all the plans generally devised by booster organizations. People who want to manufacture are going where there is an abundance of raw materials and the facilities of distribution. Legitimate industries want that rather than such other inducements as those offered for the location of industries.
They ask a fair field and no favor, yet
co-operation always is desirable when new comers establish themselves in a city.

It has been the custom of some cities to offer free sites and even cash
bonuses to get factories, but neither a free site nor a bonus is worth anything when the site isn't suitable nor has the locality the distribution advantages that assure success. Again,
there may be lacking the raw materials
upon which a manufacturer will have to depend. As a general thing, those looking for a place to locate a factory do not care for a free site, no
remission of taxes nor a cash bonus.
None of those things is worth much
unless the locality has the advantage
for the industry in question and raw materials in abundance. Many so-called promoters of industries have taken advantage of towns offering inducements to get industries and cities
have been so often "bit" by promoters that the inducement plan has been abandoned and better ones adopted.

The Kansas City Commercial Club
has been trying all sorts of plans
with indifferent results, but that club
is discussing the industrial opportunities of Kansas City along an entirely different line—one that The Star has commended heretofore on many occasions. The Kansas City boosters are agreed, like all of us, that nothing builds up a town like industries, so they are discussing all known plans to make their city an industrial center. They have come to the correct conclusion that manufacturing can be promoted by giving aid to and cooperating with local industries already established. They may need more patronage or more capital in order to make them greater industries, so that by doubling the plant of a local industry, or several of them, is equal to getting more factories. Kansas City thinks well of the idea and certainly it is a good one. The Charlotte Observer also commends it and goes on to say:

"The Kansas City Commercial Club
has been discussing a matter of importance to commercial associations the country over—the opportunities
often received to give local aid of a peculiar character for some new enterprises. These requests come from the most part from individuals who have an idea that it is the thing for cities to buy business houses and enterprises and who pick out some town
they consider easy marks. In times past, the most common bid for new enterprises was an offer of exemption from taxes, but the latter day schemers
want the towns to put up money outright. They call it giving them a bonus. The commercial organizations of a town are led to believe that it is far more important for the city to have their particular enterprise than it is for their enterprise to have the advantage of the particular city. There isn't a city in the country or a commercial organization in the country that is not planning to do this. The best possible way to acquire factories, the Kansas City people suggest, is to fill the heavens with the smoke of the factories already there and make such a roar of machinery as will be heard in the next State or in the next section of the country. It is a hard to keep men in any line from knowing what competitors are doing, and if industrial enterprises in any one part of the country are prosperous, enterprises
in other parts of the country will know it and will begin to figure on the reason for it."

It is a good plan to think more of local industries than we do and to show our appreciation of them by giving them our patronage. They may need more capital to increase their business or to enlarge their plants.
If so they should have it. If they don't ask for it, we might find out for ourselves and see that they get it. We might induce many local industries to double their plants and business, by offering our co-operation as well as offering to take stock in them.

We know several small Wilmington
industries that are paying propositions,
but they are working up to their limit as to capital and factory size. Some of them are turning away business because they can't fill the orders for their manufactures. That is a sign that they should be enlarged, even if it is necessary to subscribe to their capital stock. Very few men doing a legiti-mate business want bonuses. They want either business or more capital.
Since some of them are profitable, it would prove a good investment for local capital, but whenever there is such an industry in a city it should not lack for capital or co-operation.

Baltimore has a capitalized association which finances and co-operates with industries, and that association
not only has secured many large industries for Baltimore but has declared dividends on its capital stock.
The Baltimore association is a business concern itself and it does plenty of business. Its business is to aid industries and it does not give them anything. It sees that they get capital, and if the association does not lend
them the money it takes stock in them and assures their success. It is a good thing for Baltimore and it is a good thing for the association, since it is conducted on strictly business lines.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Mr. Bickett's apparent majority of 50,000 is an endorsement of the man's personality in addition to the normal strength which he would have shown as a candidate as the head of the Democratic ticket. We have high promise in his administration of a truly democratic regime that will be conducted apart from any suggestion of offensively partisan politics. A man of great ability, of absolutely clean life
and record, he conducted a campaign of a character to show that his ideal was a State to be managed and improved in a manner to make residence within
it a place of pride to men of all parties.
Democrats supported their candidate
with undiluted enthusiasm; Republicans voted against him, well content
with the foregone conclusion.—Raleigh Times.

The editor of The Record feels today
like congratulating himself—and congratulating the people of the Fifth district—because they are Democrats.
Major Stedman is elected by over three thousand majority—Griseom, who claimed so much has been defeated.
In the campaign we have treated Mr.
Griseom with fairness. We recognize in him a good citizen, and a clean man
—but we could not endorse him for Congress. Major Stedman will go back again—his health is improving, and the Fifth district of North Carolina will have a representative man. We have no apologies to offer for our insistence
in the Stedman cause. We feel good over this result—as the Major was the only man for whom we voted.—

quested to take part in the big Wilson

KELLY COMMUNITY FAIR

Event a Great Success, Exceeding Expectations of its Promoters.
(Special Star Correspondence).
Kelly, N. C., Nov. 10.—The Community
Fair held here last Thursday was a great success, and exceeded the expectations of even its most optimistic promoters. The little village of Centerville was crowded to the limit by the people who came from all sections of the community.

One of the unique features of the livestock exhibit was a deer exhibited
by Mr. J. T. Barnhill. Among the relics seen, was a silver spoon, 50 years old, formerly owned by a Mrs. Worth, of Fayetteville, when Sherman passed through the city on his memorable
march. It was exhibited by Mrs. L. M.
Porter. Mr. R. H. Peterson showed a hatch and skillet 115 years old.

After the Judges had completed their work the people were invited to an elegantly furnished table, where an excellent repast was served. At the conclusion of the meal, the Point Caswell
and Centerville schools furnished
amusement in the form of a track meet and basket ball games. Oysters were served to all who desired them, as refreshments. All those present pronounced it to be the greatest day of the season.

ANNUAL FAIR AT FAISON

Event This Week Was a Success—Exhibits Varied and Good.

(Special Star Correspondence).
Warsaw, Nov. 10.—The annual Fais-
on fair, given under the auspices of the Knights of Pythias, was held at the school building in Faison Thursday and Friday of this week. There was a fine agricultural exhibit, including a good showing of fall-
grown vegetables such as garden peas,
string beans, squash, lettuce, spinach,
tomatoes, Irish and sweet potatoes, as well as corn, tobacco and cotton.
The livestock exhibit showed more fine spe-
imens especially as to hogs and chickens. The handwork and cooking exhibits were especially good. Prizes were also given for best ferns and roses of which there was a nice display. There were races and sports and music furnished by the Goldsboro Band. On the second day a baby contest occurred.

years," says Mrs. J. B. Whitaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble."

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, which I did,
and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine
they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced
using Black-Draught."

Thedford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea,
headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

CALOMEL DYNAMITES YOUR LIVER! MAKES YOU SICK AND SALIVATES

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Starts Your Liver
Better Than Calomel and You Don't Lose a Day's Work

Liven up your sluggish liver! Feel fine and cheerful; make your work a pleasure; be vigorous and full of ambition. But take no nasty, dangerous calomel because it makes you sick and you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is a powerful and quick-acting
which causes necrosis of the bones.
Calomel crashes into your bile like dynamite, breaking it up. That's when you feel that awful nausea and cramping.
Listen to me! If you want to enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver

Tone tonight. Your druggist or dealer sells you a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone under my personal money-back guarantee that each spoonful will clean your sluggish liver better than a dose of nasty calomel and that it won't make you sick.

Dodson's Liver Tone is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning
because you will wake up feeling fine,
your liver will be working; headache
and dizziness gone; stomach will be sweet and bowels regular.

Dodson's Liver Tone is entirely vegetable, therefore harmless and can not salivate. Give it to your children.
Millions of people are using Dodson's Liver Tone instead of dangerous calomel
now. Your druggist will tell you that the sale of Calomel is almost stopped entirely here.

MANY VISITORS WERE HERE FOR CORN SHOW

Wilmington's Annual Fair Closed at 10 O'clock Last Night

Great Interest Manifested in Event But Election Interfered to Some Extent With Success—14,000 Saw Exhibits.

While the election and the long interval afterwards before the result was definitely known caused interest in the Wilmington Corn Show, which closed last night after having been open for four days, to be less than it would have been ordinarily, nevertheless the fair was a big success from many standpoints and marks another forward step in the development of this city and section.

Especially notable was the large attendance from the nearby counties and particularly the interest of the visitors in the exhibits. The displays arranged by Wilmington merchants and industrial enterprises were very creditable but unfortunately there were not as many agricultural exhibits as had been expected. However, these that were there would compare most favorably with any to be seen at any of the larger fairs. The only thing lacking was a sufficient variety of the various products that are grown in this section to present an adequate picture of what the farmers are really doing.

There were many very creditable individual exhibits including nearly every kind of vegetable, fruits, grains, hays and grasses and in fact everything that can be grown in this section. These were neatly arranged and presented in a very enlightening way the great possibilities of this section offers in an agricultural way.

While for the first three days of the fair, the intense interest in the outcome of the election kept the attendance and interest from being what it would have been otherwise, this was not true yesterday and the result was that no less than 4,000 people, visited the Tabernacle on Castle street last night and inspected the exhibits. The total attendance for the three days of the fair was not less than 14,000.

All the exhibits will be removed from the building today and the Corn Show of 1916 will be a matter of history. All those having agricultural exhibits as well as those having other kinds are requested to have them removed by noon today.

Those who have promoted the fair deserve much praise for the work they have done. Among those who have worked night and day for months are: Messrs. J. P. Herring, Thos. Ames, C. Van Leuven, H. B. Branch and numerous others. The ladies of Sorosis have been among the most ardent supporters of the Corn Show, not only this year but for the last several years. Indeed, it was these splendid women who first suggested the idea of having an annual fair for the promotion of everything that will make for the betterment of this city and section. Miss Margaret Gibson, president of Sorosis, has served as the very efficient secretary of the executive committee of the Corn Show.

The show this year marks another step towards having an annual fair for the southeastern section of the State which will adequately portray the resources to be had here. It now seems certain that before another year has passed that arrangements will be made for having permanent quarters in which to hold the fair.

Among the prizes awarded yesterday by the judges, who have been working hard for the past four days going over the different exhibits, are the following:

Fine Arts, Painting.
Paintings in water color—Best of nature, first prize and blue ribbon, Miss Elizabeth Symmes; best oil painting from study, first prize and blue ribbon, Mrs. R. E. Ecken.

Paintings in water color—Best water color from nature, first prize and blue ribbon, Mrs. D. M. McIntosh; best water color from study, first prize and blue ribbon, Mrs. W. A. French; best water color, (child), blue ribbon, Albert G. Gaylord.

Pastel painting—First prize and blue ribbon, Mrs. J. W. Paddison.

Drawings and miscellaneous—Best crayon from life, first prize and blue ribbon, Miss Elizabeth Symmes; best charcoal drawing, first prize and blue ribbon, Helen Dun Cressy; best pencil drawing from life, first prize and blue ribbon, Miss Elizabeth Symmes; best tapestry painting, first prize and blue ribbon, Mrs. A. WORKING FOR ENDOWMENT

Rev. Francis M. Osborne and Rev. Dr. Walter Mitchell Here in Interest of St. Mary's School.

In accordance with previously announced plans, Rev. Francis M. Osborne, special representative of the trustees of St. Mary's School, Raleigh, has come to Wilmington present to the Episcopal churches of the city the cause of religious education and to organize a movement looking toward the special benefit of St. Mary's School.

This fall Mr. Osborne resigned his parish work in Charlotte, and is now devoting his full time to leading the movement that requires the raising of a $250,000 fund for the improvement and enlargement of the institution that he represents.

The campaign has already begun and the people of Raleigh have pledged $25,000 or one tenth of the total sum to be raised. Under Mr. Osborne's supervision, $10,000 of this amount have been converted into personal subscriptions, and a responsible committee of Raleigh citizens have assured the leaders that they will finish the campaign and have released him for services in other places. Mr. Osborne believes that the enthusiasm of the people of Raleigh will carry the amount to $30,000 before the campaign is over.

St. Mary's School, during the 75 years of its existence, has been closely identified with the interests of Wilmington people and Wilmington girls of three generations have been educated there, so the people of the city will welcome the news of such a auspicious beginning. When the campaign will be inaugurated in Wilmington cannot at this time be definitely determined. Wilmington being an important part and influence of the Diocese of Eastern Carolina, one of the four dioceses which own this school, will expect to have an important part in this enterprise which concerns one of the most important institutions of the diocese.

The Diocese Trustees are strongly behind the movement and some of the most influential men of Wilmington have pledged their personal as well as financial support. Accompanying Mr. Osborne to Wilmington is Rev. Dr. Walter Mitchell, rector of Porter's Military Academy of Charleston, who will be in the city tomorrow. He will speak at the morning service at St. James' church, on "The Church's Responsibility in Education." Dr. Mitchell is one of the most prominent educators of the South, and Porter's is to boys, what St. Mary's is to girls. No two institutions have a more enviable record of service in the educational life of the Carolinas and the South.

Mr. Osborne is a guest at The Orton Hotel, and will announce the plan of the work in Wilmington as the movement develops.

STOCKTON IN CALIFORNIA TURNED TRICK FOR WILSON

Dr. J. D. Young, Native of Wilmington, Wires Star Congratulations.

It was the city of Stockton and the county of San Joaquin in far away California which turned the trick for Woodrow Wilson by giving him nearly four thousand majority, according to Dr. Junius Davis Young, a native of Wilmington, who yesterday sent a telegram to The Star conveying a message of joy to the people of his old home. Dr. Young's message, received early yesterday morning read as follows: "The Morning Star, Wilmington, N. C. 'The city of Stockton and the county of San Joaquin turned the trick for Woodrow Wilson by giving him nearly four thousand majority. He carries California. The whole state is wild with excitement. I sent this message of joy to my old home."

"DR. JUNIUS DAVIS YOUNG." Dr. Young is a brother of Mrs. Thos. D. Meares, of Wilmington, and removed to the West about 45 years ago. Captain Meares, Mrs. Meares and their daughter, Miss Mary Meares, visited Dr. Young during the summer.

Dr. Young is assistant superintendent of the California State Hospital and president of a bank in that city. He has always taken a great interest in politics and was at one time a member of the state senate in that state.

Will Preach at Trinity.

Rev. Dr. R. S. Patterson, secretary of the Board of Missions of United Lutheran Synod of the South, who is attending the biennial meeting of this body in Wilmington, will preach Sunday morning at Trinity Methodist church. The pastor, Rev. W. V. McRoe, will preach Sunday night. The public is invited to attend.

MR. LINCOLN WILL ROLL 'EM

Gallant Hughes Supporter to Haul Comrades Down Front Street in Wheelbarrow at Noon.

As an aftermath of the election, Wilmington will be treated today at high noon when Mr. Richard Lincoln, formerly of Kentucky, will pay a freak bet by rolling six other members of the organization of the Oklahoma car, which is advertising the government land, down the center of Wilmington's famous thoroughfare, Front street, from the Union station to the postoffice, in an old fashioned wheelbarrow while a host of constructed band softly plays a funeral march.

Mr. Lincoln, who is the only Republican on the Oklahoma car, was very enthusiastic for the gentleman with the whiskers and scorned the idea that there was even the remotest possibility that President Wilson being re-elected. As a result, Messrs. Gilbert, Woodard, Bernard, Mulvey, Scott and Ward offered to bet him real coin of the realm that his conception of American politics was childish.

Mr. Lincoln, however, being of an imaginative temperament supplemented the idea of the wild ride down Wilmington's busy main street and as a consequence will today make good for his bad judgement and take the boys on a joy ride in one of the world's oldest but most useful vehicles.

The time is high noon. Everybody cordially invited and the boys on the car ask the Democrats of Wilmington to join them in celebration of their victory.

CELEBRATE WILSON'S VICTORY HERE TONIGHT

Mammoth Torchlight Parade Through Principal Streets

Thousands of Men, Women and Boys to Join in Great Procession Which Starts at City Hall Promptly at 8 O'clock.

Starting promptly at 8 o'clock at the City Hall, a great torchlight procession will move through the principal streets of Wilmington tonight to celebrate the re-election of President Woodrow Wilson. While the parade will be given under the auspices of the local Wilson Club, every man, woman and child, who believes in the principles of the Democratic party or who desires to be enrolled under its banner for another four years of Peace and Prosperity, is cordially invited to participate in the parade.

The manner in which they are to march is to be determined by each individual but automobiles will be provided for the ladies and it is especially urged that they be on hand. The Boy Scouts, Sepa Grotto, the Wilmington Light Infantry and other organizations in the city have been requested to participate in the parade. They are to come attired in such clothing as each individual thinks will best suit the occasion, and with any sort of instrument that will aid in making a mirthful noise.

It is distinctly understood that this is to be an occasion of rejoicing and nobody who feels mournful because of the way the election went is invited to take part. They wouldn't feel at home and would be sadly out of place.

One hundred or more men have been invited to ride on horseback in the parade or if they find a mule more convenient to use this much abused animal. Donkeys, however, will be more preferable.

Uncle Sam will head the parade. There will be several floats while banners bearing appropriate inscriptions will occupy a prominent part in the parade. The Democratic will follow Uncle Sam and then will come the drum corps and a brass band. The order of the parade as arranged for last night is as follows: Uncle Sam, Democratic mule, drum corps, large American flag, brass band, one thousand or more Democrats and 500 Boy Scouts, 500 boys with American flags, 100 men on horseback or muleback, 500 automobiles with banners.

It is hoped that the line of march will be decorated by residents. The parade will move as follows: City Hall down Third to Red Cross, Red Cross to Front, Front to Castle, Castle to Fifth, Fifth to Market.

The Boy Scouts and other organizations taking part in the parade are asked to be at the City Hall promptly at 7:30 o'clock in order that the procession may be formed so as to start at 8 o'clock.

Get in line tonight and show that you really mean to enjoy the next four years of Peace and Prosperity and that your heart is in the right place. Help make it the biggest celebration ever pulled off in the grand old city.

NEGRO CONVICT IS DROWNED AT CASTLE HAYNES BRIDGE

Julius Kirby While Engaged in Painting Fall into Northeast River.

While engaged with a gang of convicts in painting the Castle Haynes bridge across the Northeast river, Julius Kirby, a colored youth, who was sent to the roads a week ago to serve a term of 30 days for vagrancy, fell into the river and was drowned yesterday afternoon at 8 o'clock. The negro was standing on a scaffold under the bridge and had a bucket of paint in his hand.

Mr. G. C. Orrell, foreman of the gang, and Mr. W. B. Todd, a guard, were standing nearby and heard the plank fall into the river. They immediately looked to see what had become of the negro convict but state that he never rose to the surface. The stream was running rather rapidly and the negro was likely carried down the river.

The negro's home was at Rose Hill. He was found sleeping in a box car about a week ago by the police department and arrested for vagrancy.

One thousand Democrats expected to join the Wilson parade tonight. Come and bring your friends. City hall 7:45.

FUNERAL OF MR. POOLE

Funeral Services Were Held Yesterday at Residence.

Funeral services for Mr. John Edward Poole, who died Thursday morning at his residence, No. 416 South Fourth street, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence. The services were conducted by Rev. W. R. Noe.

The many floral tributes which were received from friends and relatives attested in some measure to the high esteem in which the deceased was held in this community.

Following the services at the residence, interment was made at Oakdale cemetery. The Jeff Davis Council, J. O. U. A. M. conducted a short service at the residence.

The following acted as pallbearers: Honorary, Messrs. J. M. Lord, Brooke G. Empe, S. J. Davis and Dr. J. B. Craumer. Active, Messrs. George Greig, O. B. Beck, E. P. Harris, W. H. Hewitt, A. J. Krahne and C. C. Bellamy, Esq.

ANNIVERSARY OF RIOT

Many Wilmingtonians Recalled Yesterday Stirring Scenes of '96.

Many Wilmingtonians recalled yesterday that it was the 18th anniversary of the riot of 1896 when a number of colored men were killed by whites near Fourth and Bladen streets shortly after they had just completed the burning of the quarters of the negro paper published here at that time.

Many of those who were living here at that time recalled that while the last three days were rather lively, that there was no comparison with the scenes of 18 years ago.

WILMINGTON NORMAL AGAIN

Scene in Front of Star Office Last Night in Marked Contrast to Those of Former Nights.

An autumn full moon with smiling countenance beamed its silvery rays upon Wilmington last night as if it, too, were rejoicing silently over the Wilson victory, which has brought to the American people a new era in their political history.

The streets were almost deserted for those who had sat up until late Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights, waiting expectantly and patiently for the news that would announce the re-election of President Wilson, sought repose early in order to rest their tired and worn out bodies.

The quietude was the more noticeable in front of The Star Office. It was here that the expectant throng had gathered on each successive night for three days to read the bulletins which came from the length and breadth of the country, telling the story hour by hour and minute by minute of the gradual piling up of votes for Wilson, which would insure four more years of Peace and Prosperity.

Occasionally the telephone would ring when some inquirer would call to find out how New Mexico had gone and to learn if California was still on the right side of the column. Outside on the street there was a small bunch of men who discussed the great victory. For many in the city, it was almost impossible to believe that Wilson was re-elected, even after the Associated Press, always conservative and ever careful to confirm every fact and announcement, had stated unequivocally and without any mental reservation that Woodrow Wilson had really and truly been chosen for president by the American people. They called the office at frequent intervals throughout the day and were still apprehensive last night lest something would happen.

However, when it became apparent early in the night that California was assuredly Democratic by a safe majority, that this was also the case in New Mexico and there was a fine chance for New Hampshire to go for Wilson while the Hughes lead in Minnesota was getting smaller and smaller, practically everyone was ready to admit that Vance McCormick, who all along insisted that Wilson would get 258 electoral votes, was nearer right than anybody else, who figured on the results of the election.

While the big rally and torchlight parade is to be held tonight, there was one on a smaller scale early yesterday morning that for noise will hardly be excelled. A carload of enthusiastic Wilson supporters traversed the entire city over the street car lines, each carrying a tin pan, horn and some other noise making apparatus. Every few blocks they would have the car stopped while they gave three cheers for Wilson.

This served to carry the news to every part of the city of the glorious victory to the Democrats. Returning to Front and Princess street about 8 o'clock, the jolly crowd of celebrators concluded their festivities by giving three cheers with right much vim for The Morning Star.

The splendid bulletin service given by The Star through its Associated Press service was very much appreciated by the people of the city. This service was at all times prompt and in accordance with the facts. No attempt was at any time made to give other than the plain unbiased facts as they developed. Hundreds of inquiries were received over the telephone from all the nearby cities and towns during the three days of the suspense and all of these were answered promptly.

In connection with The Star's bulletin story of the progress of the battle of ballots toward midnight Thursday just before the Associated Press flashed the magic words, "Wilson Wins," the manipulator of the bulletins on the second floor of the building had a stroke of good fortune when Mr. W. W. Whaley, with Higgins' jewelry store, appeared on the scene with a cartoon which he had sketched a few minutes before on one of the slides. It pictures the race on a smooth, hard road with the President riding a pike, along which a sign read "To the White House," Just in the rear and to one side of the road, the dust flying in their faces, stood the Democrats with a very much exaggerated set of whiskers and Teddy Roosevelt with a very prominent set of front teeth. They were giving facial expression to numerous maledictions as the Democratic donkey swept the candidate on to victory. The cartoon was cleverly conceived and executed and went straight to the risibilities of the large crowd gathered even at that late hour in front of the bulletin screen.

Following the services at the residence, interment was made at Oakdale cemetery. The Jeff Davis Council, J. O. U. A. M. conducted a short service at the residence.

The following acted as pallbearers: Honorary, Messrs. J. M. Lord, Brooke G. Empe, S. J. Davis and Dr. J. B. Craumer. Active, Messrs. George Greig, O. B. Beck, E. P. Harris, W. H. Hewitt, A. J. Krahne and C. C. Bellamy, Esq.

CLYDE LINER CHIPPWA IS DAMAGED IN STRIKING ROCK

Steamer Still Afloat Last Night Off Massachusetts Coast.

The Clyde Line freight steamer Chippewa was damaged today when she struck a rock about five miles south of the Cape Cod canal while preparing to head for the canal entrance. She was still afloat tonight, although part of the engine room and after compartment. Her stern was said to be resting on the rock and at low tide was well out of the water. The Chippewa was bound from Jacksonville to Boston.

The Chippewa was for several months last spring on the run between New York, Wilmington and Georgetown, having been put on this line when the steamer Navahoe was taken off.

COMMITTEE SUBMITS REPORT

Recommendations Will be Passed Upon at Meeting of Committee of One Hundred Monday Night.

The report of the sub-committee, appointed to ascertain the attitude of public sentiment towards the policies of the Tidewater Power Company in accordance with the request of Mr. Hugh MacRae, president of the corporation, presented its report at a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon.

Following the reading of the report by Archdeacon Thos. P. Noe, chairman of the committee, who presided at the meeting, Mr. Hugh MacRae explained in detail the necessity of having the sympathetic co-operation of the public, if the Tidewater Power Company is to continue its present constructive policy of development in this section and community.

Unless he and his associates could be assured of this, he felt that they could not hope to continue the undertakings that have been started by them nor to undertake other projects planned for the future.

The report of the committee embodies recommendations with the reference to the suburban manufacturing center in the northeastern section of the city, which the Tidewater interests propose to develop in co-operation with the city and county and private business interests, the control of jitney bus competition, the regulation of public-controlled monopoly and the operation of a one-man car system.

The report states that a very thorough investigation of all these subjects has been made.

The report is a comprehensive one and deals with each of these subjects. Inasmuch as Mr. MacRae stated that it was imperative from his standpoint that the entire membership of the committee of one hundred either reject or adopt the recommendations made, it was decided to call a meeting for Monday night at the Chamber of Commerce and that in the meantime the report be made public, so that each member of the committee of one hundred may have an opportunity to consider it thoroughly before the meeting on Monday night.

The United Farm Women of Myrtle Grove Sound, who conducted a guessing contest concerning the number of peanuts in a jar at the Corn Show, announced that the person guessing nearest No. 513, that is, either that number or one close to it, report their guesses, so the prize may be awarded.

Only one deed was filed yesterday in the Office of the Register of Deeds, it being the conveyance of Lot 23 at Villa View from J. W. Little, Esq., as Commissioner, to J. O. Hinton, consideration, $110.

Lemmie Bland, a young white man, was arrested shortly after 9 o'clock last night at the Corn Show on a charge of disorderly conduct, charged with committing a nuisance in the vicinity of the show. Policeman W. H. Kernon made the arrest.

CUTTER SEMINOLE RETURNS FROM TRIP TO AID STEAMER Reported in Distress off Florida Coast—Schooner Taken in Tow

The coast guard cutter Seminole returned to its dock at the foot of Princess street yesterday at noon, having received a wireless message while off Savannah, Ga., that its assistance was no longer needed by the disabled four-master schooner Palatka Talapia, reported in distress near Jupiter Inlet on the Florida East coast, as that vessel had already been taken in tow by a tug. Captain P. H. Utheroth, in command of the Seminole, was hurrying with all speed on his 500-mile trip to Jupiter Inlet, when he was intercepted by the message.

It was reported unofficially that the schooner's foremast and rigging had been carried away and she was also in unseaworthy condition. The Seminole sailed to aid the distressed ship late Monday afternoon, and had covered about 250 miles of the trip, before she put about and sailed back for this port via Charleston.

FEDERAL COURT Case of E. J. Warren Against Waccamaw Lumber Company Being Tried At the conclusion of the testimony of witnesses for the plaintiff in Federal Court yesterday in the case of E. J. Warren against the Waccamaw Lumber Company, in which suit is brought for the recovery of $10,000 damages for personal injuries alleged to have been received by Robert Runk of counsel for the defense moved for non-suit and it was overruled by Judge H. G. Connor, who is presiding.

According to the testimony of several witnesses, Warren was struck by a train of cars attached to a locomotive owned by the defendant company while he was in the act of crossing the track. As a result of the accident, the plaintiff lost both of his feet, one being amputated at the knee and the other at the ankle. The firm of Rountree, Carr & Davis, of this city, Donald MacRacken, Esq., and Jackson Greer, Esq., of Whiteville, appear for the plaintiff while Robert Runk, Esq., and W. B. Campbell, Esq., appeared for the company.

DEATH OF MR. R. B. SMITH Well Known Traveling Man Passed Away in Hospital in Baltimore The many friends in Wilmington and elsewhere will regret to learn of the death of Mr. R. B. Smith, of Philadelphia, Pa., a well known traveling man, who frequently came to this city on business, which occurred Wednesday night at the Johns Hopkins hospital at Baltimore, Md., after a short illness of only ten days with pneumonia.

He was engaged to be married to a popular young woman of this city who was with him and the grief-stricken family when the end came. Surviving besides the parents are four brothers and two sisters.

OPERATION WAS SUCCESSFUL Mrs. Chapman Wires Dr. James Sprunt That Dr. Chapman Is Doing Well Dr. James Sprunt received a telegram yesterday from Mrs. Chapman stating that Rev. Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman underwent a serious operation at the Polyclinic hospital in New York which had been urgently needed by the evangelist for some time and that it was successful. The operation was performed by Dr. Bainbridge.

The many friends in Wilmington of Dr. Chapman will be glad to learn that his condition was reported as being favorable and will sincerely hope that he may soon recover.

Decorate your machine and come prepared to have a glorious good time in the Wilson parade tonight.

SHARP BREAK IN COTTON

Reaction Follows Early Advance, the General List Closing at Net Loss of 11 to 23 Points.

New York, Nov. 10.—An advance was followed by a very sharp break in the cotton market here today with May selling off from 19.87 to 19.67 and closing at 19.67. The general list closed steady at a net decline of 11 to 23 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of 5 to 10 points, but soon became firmer. The more active deliveries soon sold 5 to 8 points net higher with January advancing to 19.85 and March to 19.79. At first offerings were pretty well absorbed on reactions of 10 to 12 points, but selling became excited during the afternoon. Reports of a railroad embargo on wheat seemed to be confused with the idea that an embargo might be placed on exports of that grain and a break in the wheat market may have accounted for some of the heavy selling from Western sources. There were also rumors of submarine activity in Mexican waters.

Stop orders were uncovered on the break which carried January off to 19.23 and March to 19.13 or about 23 points below the early high and 30 to 35 points below last night's close. After the execution of the stop orders liquidation became less active and closing prices showed rallies of several points from the lowest.

WEEK'S REVIEW OF COTTON

Market Nervous and Unsettled—Political Developments Not Likely to Change Trend in Prices.

New York, Nov. 10.—The cotton market was nervous and unsettled during the entire week, with fluctuations irregular. Scattered liquidation preceded the national election, and there was evidently quite a general disposition to even up commitments for over the census report, published Wednesday.

After the big break toward the end of last month, offerings were not badly taken, however, with Liverpool houses persistent buyers. There was also further buying by some of the local spot interests and the publication of the spinning figures Wednesday was followed by a very sharp advance. May sold up 10.50, or within three points of the season's high level. Realizing became very heavy again at the 20 cent level and the market today broke very sharply under more or less general selling with May touching 19.57 and closing at 19.67, compared with 19.14 the close of the previous Friday.

Election uncertainties seemed responsible for much of the irregularity, during the earlier part of the week, but today it seemed the general impression around there that political developments were hardly likely to materially influence the general trend of values. The census report showing 4,719,032 bales gained to November 1 was under expectations and indicated the smallest spinning between October 18 and November 1 on record. Exports have continued full and after falling off at the beginning of the month, Southern spot sales became larger on the advances following the publication of the census figures.

HEAVY TRADING IN STOCKS

With Dwindling of Political Interest Wall Street Gives Free Reins to Speculative Optimism.

New York, Nov. 10.—With the dwindling of interest in the political situation, Wall Street today gave free rein to its speculative optimism, the session being one of the most noteworthy in the history of the exchange.

Dealings aggregated 2,102,900 shares, a total once exceeded this year. Fully half of the transactions consisted of United States Steel, Central Leather, the metals and related industrial and equipment. Ralls were neglected, when not actually heavy and motors were mostly weak with subsidiary issues.

Foremost among the new high records made were Central Leather, which later forfeited its advance and considerably more the shipping issues and papers, coppers, Lackawanna, Gulf States and Nova Scotia steels, the last named making its initial appearance on the board, Lacide Gas of St. Louis and Acme Tea.

Gross gains in these groups ranged from 3 to 22 points, but the net result was less advantageous. Selling was extensive on the advance, but in the last hour realizing seemed to exceed the purchasing power. Important shares recorded 1 to 2 points and the more volatile issues even more.

Among the more favorable developments of the day was the sale of refined copper at the record price of 33 1/4c per pound. Bonds were moderately active and higher in the main. Total sales, par value, $4,970,000. United States bonds unchanged on call.

HUGHES HAS NOT CONCEDED DEFEAT

Worn Out Through Waiting for Returns from Doubtful States, Retires Early

NO DECISION ON RE-COUNT

Action Likely to be Deferred Until Various States Make Official Count. Democratic Headquarters Dismantling.

New York, Nov. 10.—Worn out by the tension of waiting for the returns from doubtful states which would determine whether he had been elected to the presidency, Charles E. Hughes retired at 9 o'clock tonight. He spent the day at his hotel except for a two-hour automobile ride with his wife this afternoon. Mr. Hughes has not yet conceded the election of President Wilson and probably will not do so until the vote of close states has been officially counted.

George W. Perkins conferred this afternoon with the Republican candidate. He stated that no definite decision had been reached by party managers in regard to demanding a re-count in California, New Mexico and North Dakota. He estimated action probably would be deferred until the official count in those states was completed, in the hope that there might be an overturn of the comparatively slender Wilson pluralities.

Republican National headquarters here were deserted early tonight. Chairman Willcox announced that he would not be on hand again except for conferences.

The Democratic National Committee apparently regards the campaign as closed for the work of dismantling headquarters is well under way. Chairman McCormick spent the night at a hotel in the city and probably will go to his home at Harleburg tomorrow.

on the subject of whether the Lutheran Church should take up work among the negroes in the South, through the Home Missionary Board, a special committee or in some other manner. The discussion was precipitated by the report of the chairman of the committee on this matter, Dr. J. C. S. Eggers, and showed that there was sharp division of opinion among the delegates as to the manner in which this work should be carried on, and some delegates went so far as to express an opinion that it ought not to be taken up. The report of the committee recommended that the work be taken up among the negroes, but in view of the diversity of opinion among the delegates the matter was recommended for further consideration by the committee on work for the negro race.

The session was opened with prayer by Rev. D. A. Deaton, following which Dr. M. O. J. Krepps, made the report of the Board of Trustees of the Theological Seminary at Columbia, S. C.

Work of the Laymen.

Rev. Dr. C. E. Cronk, general secretary of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, reported on the last convention of this movement held in Roanoke and declared that it was a great success and showed that more active interest is being taken by the laymen in the work of the church. It was attended by more than 1,000 delegates, he added. He called attention to the next convention of layment which will be held in Augusta, Ga.

President M. G. G. Scherer, D. D., of Charleston, S. C., presided at business sessions yesterday, and one of the first things done was to appoint the standing committee. The Synod then took up the report of the executive committee, which was before the body at the adjournment Thursday. In this report the summary of the amounts for the next biennium was $236,000. Of this amount $50,000 was for Home and Foreign Missions; $50,000 for department relief and endowment of the Theological Seminary at Columbia, S. C.; $50,000 for a "Robert C. Holland Memorial Fund," $35,000 balance of $50,000 for permanent loan fund for Home Missions. The remainder is for the current expenses of the Synod.

Woman's Conference.

The second session of the Woman's Conference of the convention was held yesterday morning beginning at 9:30 o'clock. Mrs. E. C. Cronk conducted a devotional and prayer service for home missionaries and their work. Following a report by the committee on Co-operation of Lutheran Women of America, Mrs. Cronk reported that a meeting of Lutheran Women of the United States and Canada, has been called to convene in Chicago in 1917, with a view to organizing a Lutheran Woman's League of North America, in commemoration of the 40th anniversary of the inauguration of the Lutheran movement. This committee also reported that steps are being taken to have a Lutheran Woman's Magazine for America published.

Speaking on the subject of "Needs and Opportunities in the Home Field," Dr. R. S. Patterson, secretary of the Home Mission Board, praised the wonderful things which have been achieved through the Southern Lutheran women, and made a strong plea for their best support in the future.

Mrs. T. B. Epling, wife of the home missionary to Mississippi, made an earnest plea that the church come to the aid of the scattered Lutherans in that state to the end that the faith may be kept alive. She declared that the field had been long-neglected. She said in some sections these Lutherans were without churches, and asserted that she knew of 15 towns with a Lutheran population, which needed Lutheran pastors.

Miss Annette Kahler, who has been appointed student-secretary for the Lutheran Conference, reported on the subject of "Needs and Opportunities in Japan," and Dr. M. J. Epling, president of the Foreign Mission Board, who expressed his appreciation on behalf of the board for the work of the Lutheran women.

CHURCH BELLS PEELED FORTH THE REJOICING

Goldsboro Never Before Celebrated With Such a Noise

Whole City Went Wild With Thrill and Excitement of News of Wilson's Election—Celebrate Monday Night.

(Special Star Correspondence) Goldsboro, N. C., Nov. 10.—There is great rejoicing among all classes of Goldsboro people today over the assured re-election of President Wilson to succeed himself in the presidential chair for another four years. And that this rejoicing is very sincere was evidenced near the midnight hour last night, when hundreds of citizens, who had gathered in public places eagerly awaiting any news that would lift the suspense caused by the unfavorable returns received Tuesday night, suddenly appeared to go into a mad frenzy of rejoicing when the Associated Press news was "flashed" in this city that Wilson had been elected.

Friends gathered each other in their arms, old and young women alike, shouted, sang and wept with joy, tin horns blared, great throngs of people paraded the streets shouting "Wilson, Prosperity and Peace!" while a chain of automobiles paraded through every street in the city, filled with men, women and children, blowing horns, shaking cow bells and beating upon tin pans. A like demonstration has never before been witnessed in Goldsboro, on account of a political event.

Pealing forth still louder above the noise of happy people making the old town ring with their rejoicing, could plainly be heard the appealing notes of the church bells all over the city, putting new life, it would seem, in those celebrating the occasion, who for more than an hour then proceeded to lay hands upon every available steam whistle or any other instrument with which a noise could be made, while fire alarms were turned in from all sections of the city, making the hell toll forth, while in order to assure protection from fire loss, Fire Chief Max Cohn kept a couple of apparatus steadily making rounds of the fire district till the excitement had subsided.

The celebrators were a mass of people for the time being mad, simply mad, with delight and pleasure, and nothing less than slaughter could have stopped their celebrations, according to the belief of city officials who made no effort to cope with the situation, and let them go the limit till gradual good citizens to be home, and the crowds gradually and quietly proceeded to disperse.

Thousands of dollars had been wagered in this city on the election, most on Wilson, and clean up within a few minutes of the time it was learned the President had been re-elected wagers of both small and large denominations were made.

Not being satisfied with last night's celebration hand bells have been circulated all over the city, urging people to gather in the court house Monday night and have a second grand celebration, in which they are asked to bring torch lights, horns, bells, trumpets and automobiles, and following the exercises in the court house have a great procession for an hour through the principal streets of the city with a Rah, Rah, Rah, for Wilson.

FAYETTEVILLE LIKEWISE

MADE MUCH JOYFUL NOISE

Fayetteville, N. C., Nov. 10.—Joy was let loose in Fayetteville last night when the news of Woodrow Wilson's election was received here, and three days' unprecedented suspense was discharged in a jubilation of the like of which has never been here before. The boys were first set off when N. A. Sinclair received a wire from National Committeeman A. W. MacLean that Hitchcock, Hughes' pre-convention manager, had said the baby's name was Wilson. This was followed by a C. N. D. message that Willcox had conceded Wilson's election, and the town went wild.

Hardware and 5- and 10-cent stores were raided for anything with which a joyful noise might be made, from dinner bells and tin horns to bath tubs, the latter being used as drums. Automobiles tore through the streets with bunches of tin pans tied to their tails. The old town bell was rung and was joined by church bells, locomotive whistles shrieked, and "Zeb Vance," a historic Confederate cannon, boomed. A funeral cortege, supposedly bearing the remains of the late Republican candidate for president, wended its way through the streets. A similar procession was held in Hope Mills in this county, where the "remains" were burned on a funeral pyre.

theran Woman's Colleges throughout the country and who will shortly make a visit to all such colleges in the South, gave an interesting talk on the subject of the American Luther Federation for Latin-America. She declared that although these South and Central American countries have been neglected in the past, there has been much increased interest shown by the church late as is evidenced by the fact that Rev. and Mrs. Ephraim Cedar are now on their way to Buenos Aires, Argentina, to represent the federation in the countries to the south of us.

Missionary Pageant.

At 4:30 o'clock, just before the afternoon sessions closed, a large audience witnessed a very interesting "Missionary Pageant" in which young girls from St. Paul's church who were participants in the pageant were a mission message in song and story and was a most impressive exercise.

At a session held in the afternoon, the Woman's Conference invited Mrs. Majime Inadomi, a Lutheran Japanese student attending Roanoke College to speak. Mr. Inadomi thanked the conference for its interest in the work in Japan and made an impassioned appeal for an awakening of spiritual life among the young people of America.

Short addresses of greeting were also made by Rev. Dr. M. G. G. Scherer, of Charleston, S. C.; Dr. C. L. Brown, secretary of the Foreign Mission Board, who spoke on the subject of "Needs and Opportunities in Japan"; and Dr. M. J. Epling, president of the Foreign Mission Board, who expressed his appreciation on behalf of the board for the work of the Lutheran women.

SUBMARINE SIGHTED 150 MILES OFF VIRGINIA CAPES

Observers on British Ships Said It Was of German Build.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 10.—Incoming British ships, according to waterfront reports tonight, sighted a submarine 150 miles off the Virginia capes Thursday, moving westward. Observers did not get near enough to say whether the U-boat of German build, was a merchantman or a fighting craft. All outgoing Entente allied ships have been notified to proceed to sea with caution.

U-BOAT ACTIVITIES CAUSE A DISTURBING SITUATION

President Will Receive Full Summary on Return to Washington.

Washington, Nov. 10.—A complete summary of the situation growing out of recent activities of German submarines is being prepared at the State Department for submission to President Wilson on his return to Washington Sunday. Officials admit informally that the outlook is more disturbing than it has been at any time since the sinking of the channel steamer Sussex.
